Holiday Traffic Deaths Exceed Hundred Mark

Car Clouters Take $9,747 In Articles

Police today are following up every lead on a car clouter, who took $9,747.50 worth of clothing, cameras, radios and baggage from parked automobiles.

Four persons reported to police yesterday that items had been stolen from their automobiles. They were:

Louis A. Williams of Hollywood, Calif., who reported the theft of two expensive furs and women's clothing valued at $2,332.50.

Mrs. C. H. Van Behren of Denver, Colo., who reported the theft of clothing, a radio, and two pieces of luggage valued at $1,200.

Lester R. Braun of Sandy Point, Idaho, who reported the theft of sports shirts, suits and overcoat valued at $275.

Jane Colgan of Palm Springs, who reported the theft of a camera from her car, and estimated the value at $20.

Entry into the cars was made by using a screwdriver or beer-can opener to pry open the window of the car, then unlock the door and remove the articles.

Chief of Police August G. Kettmann has ordered increased vigilance on the part of his officers, in combating the car clouts.

Telephone Rate Increase Filed

Confirming plans announced earlier, the California Water and Telephone Company this week filed an application with the State Public Utilities Commission for an increase in rates throughout its entire system, which includes Palm Springs, Desert Hot Springs, Cathedral City, Rancho Mirage and Palm Desert.

Following the proposed increase announced earlier, a number of residents of the area indicated that protests would be filed, with the feeling being that a rate increase should not be requested until service improvement had been completed.

IF APPROVED, the new telephone rates would add approximately two cents per day to the bill of most resident subscribers in this area, according to Doak Davis, district manager. Davis added that in the Palm Springs exchange, the monthly base rate for four-party residence service would be increased from $3.35 to $3.55, and one-party residence service from $4.75 to $5.20.

In Rancho Mirage the rate for four-party residence service will be $4.15 and for one party residence service, $6.20.

The new two-party business rate would be $8.55; and one-party $10.25 in Palm Springs; in Rancho Mirage, $9.25 for two-party business service and $11.25 for one party business service.

The proposed increase would mean an additional $1,400,000.00 in gross revenues for the company, according to Fred H. MacGougan, manager of the telephone division. After taxes, the company would net less than $700,000, he said.

"Our company is no more inflation-proof than the average business," said MacGougan, "and our net earnings have been declining steadily in the last two years."

Lower Than Comparative Figure of '55

By UNITED PRESS Traffic deaths shot over the 100 mark as fog and rain blanketed the East today but the fatality rate was running below the predicted four-day Christmas holiday toll.

At 10 a.m. (PST) the United Press counted 101 traffic deaths. Fires killed three persons and miscellaneous mishaps five for a grand total of 109 since 6 p.m. Friday.

A SPOKESMAN for the National Safety Council said the count for the first 18 hours of the holiday was below that of the comparable period last year. He said if the rate were maintained the total would be less than the 660 predicted.

The fog brought a rash of head-on collisions and safety experts cautioned drivers to reduce their speed to a crawl if they couldn't see what's ahead of them.

ALL TRAVEL facilities were jammed with holiday travelers. Railroads out of Chicago reported boom business. Airlines which had been weathered in had intermittent flights out of Chicago and hoped normal service would be restored by the end of the day.

Typical of the accidents was one in Florida, where four persons died and four children were injured in a pre-dawn three-car smashup north of Clearwater. Police said one car apparently veered across the center line into another.

Illinois showed 12 deaths in traffic, California 7, New York 6, and Michigan and Ohio 5 each.

Tramway Had Two Setbacks, Contract, Death

By FRED C. WEIGEL

Mt. San Jacinto Winter Park Authority, the governing body for the proposed Palm Springs-Mt. San Jacinto Tramway, yesterday got two serious setbacks concerning the construction of the aerial Tramway.

One, when the California State Parks Commission refused to approve a new contract to use the state park as the Tramway site, and second the death of Alden G. Roach, president of the Columbia Geneva steel division of U.S. Steel Corporation, who was killed yesterday when a plane in which he was flying crashed into a mountain top near Tyrone, Pa., killing the steel chief, his pilot and co-pilot.

ROACH, 55, WAS a key figure in the Mt. San Jacinto-Palm Springs Tramway, putting a reported $200,000 into plans, cost estimates, and surveys for the Tramway project.

He was a frequent visitor to the Village, having two or three times climbed to the top of San Jacinto to look over the Tramway site. A flying enthusiast, he flew over the proposed site on many occasions.

FRANCIS CROCKER, secretary of the Tramway Authority, said, "The loss of this man is the big blow to the future of the Tramway; the action taken by the Park Commission yesterday is something else again — we can fight it."

The large sum of money he put into the Tramway was not in the form of cash, but in the form of thousands of man hours, combining the talents of many specialized trades in constructing on paper the huge aerial Tramway.

Anglo-French Troops Leave Egyptian Soil

LONDON, (AP) — The last Anglo-French troops pulled out of Port Said, Egypt, today, ending a 47-day occupation that plunged relations among the United States, Britain and France to the lowest point in decades.

The Anglo-French attack on Egypt also created economic emergencies throughout western Europe as a result of the closing of the Suez Canal.

The last 1,000 "beachhead" troops began marching out of the tightly guarded waterfront perimeter into transport ships at 4:15 p.m. Danish troops of the United Nations "police force" covered the withdrawal from the ground, while Anglo-French planes circled overhead.

Ten destroyers covered the flanks of the withdrawal against any possible last-minute Egyptian attack.

Salzburg, Austria, (AP) — Vice President Richard Nixon said today the U.S. Congress should consider "the whole problem of refugees," and not only those of Hungarian freedom fighters.

Nixon arrived here shortly after midnight on the last leg of his three-day whirlwind tour of refugee camps in Austria. He will report back to President Eisenhower next week.

In a brief statement to newsmen at the Glaserbach displaced persons camp near here, Nixon pointed out that the necessity for the Eisenhower administration and Congress take a realistic look at U.S. immigration laws.

He said the United States waived immigration requirements for freedom fighters to enter the United States, although Hungarians who fled their homes earlier often were inadmissible.

John Sentenced To Four Years

KARLSRUHE, Germany, (AP) — The West German Supreme Court today convicted Dr. Otto John of treason and sentenced the former counter-intelligence chief of West Germany to four years imprisonment.

Gen. Tiger Wang Shu-Ming told United Press in an exclusive interview Nationalist jets made contact with Chinese Communist aircraft on more than 20 different occasions, shooting down six and damaging four others.

He did not divulge the extent of Nationalist losses, if any.

Chinese Planes Continue Attack

TAIPEI, Formosa, (AP) — The commanding general of the Nationalist China air force disclosed for the first time today that Formosa-based Chinese planes flew more than 3,500 sorties to the Communist-held China mainland this year.

Gen. Tiger Wang Shu-Ming told United Press in an exclusive interview Nationalist jets made contact with Chinese Communist aircraft on more than 20 different occasions, shooting down six and damaging four others.

He did not divulge the extent of Nationalist losses, if any.

MILAN, Italy UP — A DC-3 Italian Airlines Company plane carrying 20 passengers and a crew of four is two hours overdue here.

WASHINGTON UP — President Eisenhower has selected New York financier Jock Whitney to be the new United States ambassador to Great Britain succeeding Amb. Aldrich.

CARSON CITY, Nev. UP — Another vote on Nevada's "Right-to-Work" Act at the 1958 general election for the fourth consecutive time was assured today. Petitions seeking repeal of the controversial measure were filed at 11:45 p. m., Friday, only 15 minutes before the deadline.

Communist Sympathizer Admits Setting Church Fires

TRENTON, N.J. — An avowed Communist sympathizer admitted to police who arrested him Friday night he set two church fires "because I hate religion and Communism means truth."

Theodore Pravda, 35, an unemployed factory worker, said he set fire to the Holy Trinity Ukrainian Orthodox Church and Sts. Peter and Paul Roman Catholic Church Thursday night. There were no serious injuries in either fire.

Pravda said he recently changed his name from Johannes Bychuck because "Pravda means truth."

Pravda is the name of the official Soviet newspaper in Moscow.

THE CHURCHES were fired only two days after Elber C. Lucas, 40, a part time handyman, pleaded guilty to setting four church fires last Sunday and a $3.5 million blaze last March that destroyed St. Mary's Roman Catholic Cathedral and rectory with a loss of three lives.

Detectives who were waiting for Pravda in his home said they had traced him through a license number of a rented car he used on the night of the fires. The Rev. Michael Zaparynuik noted the number after chasing the arsonist across the yard of Holy Trinity moments after he had hurled a flaming can of alcohol anti-freeze through the window.

FATHER ZAPARYNUIK rushed into the church and smothered two burning tables with his overcoat.

Police said Pravda had two "master plans" for setting fire to a number of churches and the city hall. The initial plan was called "First Night of Justice" and the next, the "Second Night of Justice," they said. The plans were found in Pravda's safety deposit box in the Trenton Trust Co.

Police said Pravda had written several letters to the Russian Embassy in New York recently.

A joint sentry system set up to guard the city's 85 churches against further arson was relaxed generally.

Mrs. Barrie Rites Held at Forest Lawn in Glendale

Funeral services for Mrs. Myrtle Barrie, Rancho Trailer Park, were conducted at the Church of the Reformation, Forest Lawn, Glendale, with Dr. James Blackstone, Jr., pastor of the Palm Springs Community Church, officiating.

Mrs. Barrie died at her park home on Dec. 9. She came to Palm Springs from Manitowoc, Wis., and she and her husband, Arthur, were one of the original owners in the Rancho Corporation, and still retained ownership at the time of Mrs. Barrie's death.

Mrs. Barrie was a member of the Palm Springs Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, Desert Does, American Legion Auxiliary, and a Gold Star Mother having had a son killed overseas during World War II.

Survivors besides her husband include two daughters, Mrs. Josephine Ault of Wisconsin and Mrs. Ellen Thatcher of Long Beach, and 16 grandchildren.

SANTA CLAUS alights from his plane on the Desert Air Hotel's own landing strip to make a before Christmas visit to see Danny and Kyle Callahan. He will return Christmas Day with gifts for all the Palm Springs area children who gather at Desert Air, according to John Noyes, Desert Air manager. All children are invited.

Boy, 3, Kept Locked in Room By His Parents for Two Years

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — A three-year-old boy, kept locked in a fifth-smeared room for possibly two years, was under hospital care today. His parents face charges of cruelty to children.

Police went to the home of Grady Hickman, 40, and his wife, Doris, 33, Friday at the complaint of a neighbor and found the couple's three-year-old son, Stephen, locked in an "incredibly foul-smelling" room.

THE BOY was found sleeping in light underwear on a bedspring without a mattress and was taken to a nearby hospital where doctors examined him.

Police said the neighbor learned of Stephen's captivity from his six brothers and sisters.

A sister, Linda, told officers, her brother had been locked in the room for "a year, maybe two."

STEPHEN'S PARENTS refused to tell police why they kept the boy penned up in the room. The door was wired shut from the outside. Hickman's only comment was "my wife takes care of the kids."

Authorities said they would issue a warrant Monday charging the Hickmans with cruelty to children. The doctor said he was unable to determine as yet whether the little boy was of subnormal intelligence because "you don't often run into kids who have been under those circumstances." He said the child was able to mumble a few words; could use his hands but had difficulty in walking.

Irish Girl Right, Uncle Sam Is Santa

BERLIN, 48 — The U.S. Army today ordered a stuffed toy animal and a tricycle for a little Irish girl who addressed her Christmas letter to Uncle Sam instead of Santa Claus.

Sernea Little of Dublin said she heard U.S. soldiers here were entertaining 3,500 orphans, refugees and other children at Christmas parties. She wrote to "The U.S. Army Chief in Berlin" asking, "please, do you think you could share one of your parties with us?"

She said her five-year-old crippled sister Sharman has undergone three operations on her legs and will soon go to London for another. "She is very good and we all love her," the letter said. "Mummy calls her our little blessing. She is dying for a sausage dog and a trike to ride. She is in bed since Saturday with a bad cold."

Army officials said "a sausage dog and a trike" are on their way to Dublin.

Chorus Program To Be Broadcast

The Palm Springs Civic Chorus will be featured in a special Christmas broadcast of Handel's "Messiah" on KDES at 1:30 p.m., Sunday.

The Christmas oratorio, directed by Harry Tomlinson, features Mary Rayfield, Reba Mason, John Hilery and Alex Hammond as soloists.

The program was recorded for broadcast at the Chorus' concert last Monday at Cabulla School.

Body heat of so-called "cold-blooded" creatures such as reptiles and turtles varies with outside temperature instead of remaining fixed as in mammals and birds.

MARILYN BIXBY, seated at an empty table at El Mirador Hotel, where she will serve as dinner hostess to a group of Marines Christmas Day, points out that many Marines will be unable to have a Christmas away from camp because Villagers have not shown their usual hospitality. A local committee arranged for 400 Marines to be brought here, but to date just over 50 have been offered Christmas dinner. The Marines will arrive here Christmas Day about 10 a.m. and will leave at 4 p.m. Any person wishing to host a Marine is asked to call El Mirador 2044. (Desert Sun Photo)

Thwarted

DAYTON, O. (AP)—Eugene Wooley when he paid a parking fine, stapled his $3 check to the ticket with 94 staples, all in groups of three in the shape of stars. The court mailed it back to Wooley because: "If we left the check on the ticket the bank might not recognize it." Anyway, the way the ticket is now, it couldn't be used in the IBM machine."

MORE GOLF COURSES
IN THE MAKING

The need for more golf facilities in the Palm Springs resort area has long been felt. In the last two years it has become increasingly difficult for visitors to get on the two private courses—and O'Donnell. Efforts of the business men and hotel owners to interest voters in approving a Municipal Golf Course failed last spring. The $800,000 bond issue (half for the land and half for construction) fell far short of the two-thirds needed.

Many people took the position that the hotel interests should at least share in the cost by financing the cost of construction of a municipal course, or at least paying the cost of operation. The golf course bonds were defeated because voters seemed to feel that the cost was too high—and because some didn't approve the idea at all.

Failure of the golf course bonds to pass was followed by numerous reports of courses being planned by private interests. Indian Wells was already under way and has now been completed.

Several Others Planned

Noel Clark announced plans for the course in the Ranch Club area this week. While formal announcements have not yet been made, it is known that plans are progressing on at least two other golf courses in the area. It is known that another course is in the making in the Hidden Springs area. A huge piece of land between Palm Desert and Indian Wells is being acquired with a golf course in mind.

These plans make it certain that this recreational area is going to have more golf facilities and that, at least on some of them, vacationists will be able to play. There is good reason to believe that the area will support additional golf courses because more people are coming here all the time. Indeed, more courses will attract a lot more people who love golf but seldom get a chance to play in Palm Springs.

The success of the Thunderbird, with its superb residential area, has given other groups the idea that courses can be financed through the sale of residential property surrounding them. It is reported that almost all of the lots around Indian Wells have already been sold and that many new homes will be built there in the next few months.

The Palm Springs resort area can easily become the most popular winter golf center in the nation, attracting more and more people because of its golf facilities. Let us hope at least another course will be in operation within another year or so.

COLLEGE EDUCATION

(The Sharon, Wis., Reporter)

From the superintendent of the state reformatory at Green Bay comes one of the best arguments for a high school—and a college—education.

The population at the state reformatory, one of two maximum security prisons operated by the state, has risen to peak levels and may be enlarged during 1956.

Ned admissions to the institution lately have represented somewhat older youths. The typical offender now being received at the reformatory was convicted of an offense against the laws of property, was around 20 years of age, single, with about an eighth grade education, and was sentenced for a term of about two years.

"SWAP PROFIT LIES . . ."

(Concrete, Wash., Herald)

This week we go to a newspaper convention. The convention is an American custom whereby all the people in a similar business get together once a year to rebuild their egos, salve each other's woes and swap profit lies. It's most soothing panacea is that reassurance that if you are a darn fool to the business, you have a lot of company.

A Lot of Prospects Among the Tribe

THIS SIDE

Villagers are kindly Beyond a doubt,
On Christmas they see Few go without

Sometimes you hear people say "The more I see of people, the more I like horses and dogs." Well, that could be true sometimes but it doesn't apply in Palm Springs.

LET THERE be a worthy needy cause and Villagers flock to help. That was again demonstrated here this week in the case of Gary Friedrich, 4½. Through circumstances Christmas was not going to be merry for him.

But two members of The Sun staff heard of it and now Gary will be happier this Christmas.

They are Al LeAnne, city reporter, who wrote the story about Gary and Don Klotzbecher, editor, who wrote an attention-compelling headline: "Christmas Merry for all but Gary."

THE COMBINATION instantly touched the hearts of Villagers and donations have been pouring into The Sun office to remedy the situation.

This spirit on the part of Villagers has many times been demonstrated in cases such as these. The Welfare and Friendly Aid Society can tell you that every time they have issued an appeal in a case of distress, the response has been more than generous.

People of Palm Springs really do have a heart.

THOUGHT I was seated next to some big-time plungers at a TV showing of a fight the other night.

Said one man: "I'll bet you 50 on the guy in the black trunks and 75 more than the fight doesn't go five rounds."

The other man took him up. Well, white trunks one and the fight ended in two rounds.

Waited to see the bankrolls change hands. But the man who picked the black trunks paid the other four-bits and the man who thought it would go more than five, forked over six-bits.

IT IS ESPECIALLY tragic when death occurs on a holiday. The memory is more poignant for that holiday will always bring it back and will never again be the same for the victim's family and friends.

So be extra careful over the Christmas and New Year holidays. The Christmas holiday which started last night at 5 o'clock and will last until midnight Tuesday, will put thousands on the highways, all in a hurry to rejoin families for the festive occasion.

BUT IT WON'T be festive for hundreds of families for the National Safety Council estimates 630 persons will die in the holiday traffic, a new record, unless motorists set "an unprecedented safety demonstration."

So don't take a chance in traffic. Wait if you take a few minutes longer getting home so long as you ARE home for Christmas.

Remember — Drive for Your Life.

THIS YEAR'S Christmas Cards are like the new automobiles. Longer, lower and wider. Those old square envelopes left over from last year weren't any good. At first, I believed people were sending me my favorite reading matter, time tables.

INEZ ROBB:

Fountain of Youth

It is probable that the search for the Fountain of Youth began with Adam and Eve. And that the reason it is so firmly associated with Ponce de Leon is that he got a better press.

Probably that sly serpent, as it slipped the apple to the mother of us all, murmured soothing words to the effect that it would prevent gray hair, tooth decay, crow's feet, chin sag and that tired feeling.

Old Dr. Faustus, in the Middle Ages, traded his soul to the devil for a few more years of youth and high jinks. And in the end, he disappeared in a clasp of thunder and an ominous odor of brimstone.

Well, sir, it appears now that Dr. Faustus and even Ponce de Leon were simply born some centuries too soon. I keep reading learned papers by physicists and assorted esoteric scientists promising that when true space travel is perfected, man will achieve his twin ambition to live longer and look younger.

DR. S. FRED Singer, University of Maryland physicist and a space satellite enthusiast, is the most recent scientist to lift up his voice in support of the theory that the Fountain of Youth is "way out yonder in the wild blue."

Somewhere in outer space, there is a Shangri-La where time runs much more slowly than on this planet, in accordance with some special theory of the late Albert Einstein. Dr. Singer interprets the theory as a promise that in this never-never land, both the tick of the clock and of man's heart will be slowed to a crawl.

However, any satellite now envisioned by man won't do the trick. The inhabitant of an earth satellite whizzing around the world at a mere five miles per second (as now visualized) will only add one second per 100 years to man's span. This hardly seems worth the effort.

BUT—IF MAN can ever invent and inhabit a satellite that travels even at approximately the speed of light, which is 186,000 miles per second, some scientists foresee a day when "age cannot wither her, nor custom stale."

Come that day, we shall all be Peter Pans, younger than springtime, if we can just book a reservation to infinity. It envisions eternal youth among the stars instead of out of jars.

Chin straps, dye pots and false chompers will be unknown in that happy day. Probably all hair will be naturally curly and good for the run of the play, or life. And those 20th Century substitutes for the Fountain of Youth, yogurt and plastic surgery, carrot juice and hormone creams, yoga and wheat germ, vitamins and black-strap molasses, will be historic curiosities, like alchemy.

There's a great day coming when youth will be a permanent condition, if we can stand it, and the theme song of the ages will be, "Old space jockeys never fade, they just fly away!"

I love to WATCH television—I just don't want to be a serial queen and give up my freedom!"

JOHN BROMFIELD, on the other hand, the sheriff in "Sheriff of Cochise," says: "I like doing a series—just as long as they don't put me in boudoirs." Bromfield, who boxed and played football in college, claims an actor lasts longer, with action-type stories. ## EARL WILSON:

Gal With a Coat

NEW YORK — Shirl Conway, the big blonde with the big mink coat who plays the femme fatale on Sid Caesar's TV show, recently made a speech in her home town, Franklinville, N.Y. (pop. 1600).

"When you're young," she said, "this is the kind of a town you can't wait to get away from."

"But when you're older, this is the kind of a town you can't wait to get back to."

Shirl, having attained — at approximately 40—one of the biggest mink coats in New York and having bought herself a town house here on the uppity East Side, got a little emotional about Franklinville because the girls there had thrown her a coffee.

"Do you know what a coffee is?" she asked the B.W. and me the other night when we crawled to the Waldorf and El Morocco.

"IT'S A PARTY where they just serve coffee. It started at 6:30 and lasted till midnight."

Shirl's friends were complimentary, but one of them said, "Why doesn't Sid Caesar do his show at a different hour? We just love Lawrence Welk." A relative said they drive 20 miles Saturday night to see the Caesar program because it isn't seen right in Franklinville.

Thinking of all this—and the mink coat and the town house—Shirl considers herself a mighty lucky gal.

"You know how many of my female co-workers in the theater aren't working?" Shirl asked. "A hell of a lot!"

"TELEVISION MUST have stimulated a lot of young girls to come here looking for jobs," the B.W. said.

"It's also stimulated a lot of old girls!" Shirl groaned. "I'm very lucky to be on a show with somebody like Sid. If you're not happy with something, you can go to him and say, 'Pappy, I'm not happy.' You don't have to go see some other guy and ask him to tell him."

Six feet tall in her heels—and she wears the highest heels she can get—Shirl's proudest of the mink which she bought when she went to England to star in "Plain and Fancy" in the pre-Caesar days.

"I don't want just a long coat—I want a tent!" she told Milton Herman, the furrier, who, back in the days when she was poor, would lend her a coat in an emergency. "I want one with a hood."

In London people used to say, "There goes that coat again." Shirl says, "It took six months' work to pay for it."

SHIRL'S EXPERIENCE as a showgirl, cover girl and saloon singer has been helpful on TV. Back in the World War II days, she was singing in a club when some heckler tossed a couple pennies on the floor.

"Now if you'll throw me $18.75 more, I can buy a bond," she told him.

Shirl will frankly admit that she's worked in clubs where a girl was supposed to "mix." Coming from Presbyterian stock she didn't find this easy.

But she managed to do it. Eventually came success and she was booked at the snooty St. Regis. Close friends dropped in. Shirl went to their tables.

She got a stiff note from the management. "Would you please entertain your guests in your room?" it said. "Entertainers at the Maitland are not permitted to mix with the customers."

THE WEEK-END WINDUP

"DON'T PRINT THAT!" A noted writer moved into a fashionable East Side hotel and told friends, "I'll stay here till they find out I can't pay the bill!" . . . A famous singer-pianist is too busy for minor chores—so his valet signs his "autographed" photos.

Actor Robert Strauss, who grew a beard for a stage role, was asked if he'll shave it off. "Not all of it," he said. "—just the right side." . . . Arthur O'Connell's off to L.A. to spend Christmas with NBC exec June Leff.

Joan Morton of "Mr. Wonderful" is the first showgirl ever chosen by Baby Talk magazine as "Mother of the Month." . . . Diplomatic Nat (King) Cole says he admires Elvis Presley's "energy" . . . AUGUSTA, Ga.—President Eisenhower rejecting a tariff hike on groundfish fillet imports from Canada, Norway and Iceland.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

Hail and Farewell

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Herbert Hoover, Jr., is easily one of the handsomest men in Washington. His broad face is expressive, thoughtful and distinguished. His figure is tall, spare and powerful. He is an informed and earnest talker, not given to chitchat or superficialities, but relaxed and responsive.

Mr. Hoover seldom works less than 12 hours a day at his State Department office. He usually does homework after dinner. In two years as Under Secretary he has performed like a Hercules, not merely on "administrative" matters, as his belittlers have made the public believe, but on "policy" of the highest and most sensitive sort.

MR. HOOVER AND Secretary Dulles are members of a very exclusive mutual admiration society. Mr. Hoover came to admire the Secretary at first as an intellectual giant who handled factual and ideological materials with the ease of a cowboy rolling his own cigarette. Since the Secretary's iron-man feat of accelerated medical recovery, Mr. Hoover thinks of him as a physical giant as well. From the Secretary's viewpoint, Mr. Hoover has been the ideal deputy, both because of his industry and ability and also because he has no ideas. Although one was a world figure and the other a world traveler, President Eisenhower and Under Secretary Hoover were personal strangers until October, 1954. During the previous summer Mr. Hoover had pulled off a diplomatic triumph by negotiating the "consortium" which restored good relations and an oil-flow between Iran and the Western powers.

IT WAS ON the wings of this success — and with no relation whatever to his "administrative" abilities—that Mr. Hoover found himself waited to the number two desk at the State Department.

Desk jobs, in fact, had never been in Mr. Hoover's line. In his youth he recovered from two serious illnesses. He rebuilt his health by leading the robust life of an outdoor engineer. In the State Department hierarchy, the Under Secretary is the Secretary's junior partner and stand-in. The administrative housekeeping is done by another person (Loy Henderson, at this writing) with the specific title of "Deputy Under Secretary of State for Administration."

Mr. Hoover has been Acting Secretary whenever Mr. Dulles has been an airborne absentee, which has been pretty often. As a matter of record, Mr. Hoover has presided at more than 100 staff meetings in his superior's absence. He has done so with adroitness and aplomb to the admiration of the 25 or so staff members.

AS A LOYAL subordinate, Mr. Hoover has effaced himself or taken the rap as the case demanded. During the Middle East crisis with the Secretary horsed combat in Walter Reed Hospital, Mr. Hoover went in and out of the President's office as many as seven times a day. He was not, however, running the show. Mr. Dulles, who never relinquished control except for a brief spell under anesthesia, was Secretary-by-telephone, although Mr. Eisenhower made all important decisions.

Mr. Hoover's task was that of factualizing the information on which the President did his deciding. Meanwhile the same sources which had supplied the reports of the Under Secretary's "administrative" occupation were retailing stories about his financial interests in the Middle East. He does not, and never did, own stock in any overseas oil firm.

On three noteworthy occasions Mr. Hoover, taking the initiative as Acting Secretary, ran into trouble with Congress and the press. Once was when West German Chancellor Adenauer paid a visit to Moscow. Mr. Hoover issued a statement in which this visit was hailed as a victory for American diplomacy. Mr. Dulles and a good many others thought otherwise. The statement was repudiated.

ANOTHER TIME was when Mr. Hoover identified himself with three other Administration characters in search of a balanced budget. The others were Treasury Secretary Humphrey, Foreign Aid Chief Hollister and former Budget Director Hughes. They became known as the 4-H Club, and Mr. Hoover was charged (somewhat loosely) with favoring solvency above security. The third occasion was when the Acting Secretary, always the conservative, suspended some military tank shipments to the Middle East until he could review the circumstances.

Three errors, if that's what they were, is not a bad fielding average for two sizzling seasons of international politics. The belittlers have made much over them, and will make much more when the Senate Foreign Relations Committee investigates Middle East policy. But Mr. Hoover, whatever else his administrative talent, has an engineer's mind when it comes to keeping precise records. He can't be hurt by the truth, and the truth will be at the Committee's disposal.

Mr. Hoover leaves office next month. He has doctor's orders to get outdoors again. He has no regrets, and such misgivings as he has accumulated are impersonal. His experience with the belittlers and snipers is one to raise this question: How many businessmen stay out of public affairs, and deny the country their abilities, because of these same pests?

Filbert Pudding Fitting Christmas Dinner Finale

If you remember with nostalgia those delightful steamed puddings your grandmother served, but have never quite had the nerve to attempt one yourself, take heart. Here is a recipe that's both simple and inexpensive, but so completely irresistible when finished, it will mark you for life as a superb cook. Much of the success of this pudding, of course, is a result of the superb flavor and crunchy goodness of the filberts, for they have a way of making every dish a memorable one.

You'll want to use filberts in your fruit cake, your cookies, and candies of course. But be sure to keep a good supply on hand, too, for your stuffing and salads. It goes without saying that there'll be a big bowl of filberts on hand for between meal munching. What could be cozier than a crackling fire, a bowl of filberts and a crisp apple?

Youngsters in the family will enjoy filberts and filbert-filled goodies right along with the grown-ups. Filberts make a worthy contribution to their diet for they are a good source of protein, and excellent source of energy and contribute valuable minerals and vitamins. All these things are necessary to our growing boys and girls. So if your children love filberts, don't hesitate to sprinkle them liberally through all your favorite dishes.

Filberts are Oregon State's contribution to the culinary world, and about 90 per cent of the filberts grown commercially in the country come from this Pacific Northwest State.

For the holiday steamed Filbert

Pudding, use 1 cup chopped Oregon filberts; 1 cup all purpose flour; 1 teaspoon soda; 1 teaspoon cinnamon; 1 teaspoon nutmeg; 1/2 teaspoon cloves; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1 egg; 1 cup brown sugar; 1 cup raw carrots, grated; 1 cup chopped apples; 1 cup potatoes, grated; 1 cup chopped suet; 1 cup raisins. Sift flour, measure, add soda, cinnamon, nutmeg, cloves and salt. Sift again. Beat egg slightly. Add sugar, carrots, apples, potatoes, suet, raisins and filberts. Add flour with spices. Pour into greased 6 cup mold, leaving 1 inch space for expansion. Cover and steam 2 to 3 hours. Serve with hard sauce. Yield — 8 servings.

Smudges on venetian blind slats usually can be removed with an art gum eraser.

Use Care Lighting That Outdoor Tree

Outdoor Christmas trees, strung with colored lights, provide spectacular sights in winter's wonderland. But trees are often burned by too-powerful lighting displays.

Use only electrical fixtures designed specifically for outdoor evergreens and shrubs to avoid scorching year-round decorations, advise Davey tree experts. Bulbs shouldn't be stronger than 15 watts. These are bright enough but not hot enough to cause damage.

Around Town

with Hildy Crawford

There's been a deluge of Christmas greeting cards this year . . . There are more of them and more elaborate ones . . . Some are purely beautiful . . . and some are funny bunnies . . . Some are gorgeous . . . and some glow with Christmas reverence . . . There are pictorials, photographs, sketches and reproductions of paintings . . . Some come from down the street . . . and some from far away lands . . . and all bring a friendly Christmas message . . . from old friends and new friends . . . These expressions of friendship help make Christmas the joyous season that it is . . . and are a prime example of the good will that really exists on this old earth . . .

Reverence: In this classification . . . I think that Bob and Andrea Howard's card tops the list . . . It encloses a tiny picture of the Infant Jesus . . . that had been doubly blessed . . . once in Bethlehem on the altar with a silver star that records the niche where the Blessed Baby lay . . . and once again on our Lord's Tomb . . . Andrea brought them back from the Holy Land this summer . . . The card from Edie and Alden Ogle is a reproduction of Albrecht Durer's "Praying Hands" . . . beautifully done in a gold embossing on a flat gold surface . . . Mike Connolly sent a manger scene, framed in red velvet and gold . . . From Elsinore Machris comes a modern interpretation of the same thing . . . with a stained window effect, with glass insets . . . Another beautiful Madonna card comes from Helen and Jack Kenaston . . . The George Dulany's is an effective copy of a Ruth Ray painting . . . Three boys, one colored, stand outside in the snow, peering through a window at the Mother and her Child . . . The wise men ride in jeweled splendor on the card from Tom and Theodora Fleming . . . and are more modernistic on the one from the Johnny Dawsons . . . A snowy church scene, radiating golden light, in an original design, is from Mary Bedford-Jones . . .

Santa Claus: doesn't seem to be so popular this year . . . but has good representation . . . There's a jovial one on the card from Ned and Joan Crawford . . . which came down from Portland instead of the Crawford's . . . and the Santa on the Eisenman's card . . . holds out a mittened hand . . . either in greeting or admonition . . . The Slim Jim Santa with the short body and the tall hat . . . came from both the Florian Boyds and the Belmont SanCher's . . . Bill Boggess' Santa is a photographer . . . holding a flash bulb on high . . . and you can see yourself reflected in the camera lens . . .

Foreign Cards: From George Kainapau, whose golden singing voice is so much missed here . . . as he's in the Hawaiian Village in Honolulu this winter . . . comes a Mele Kalikimaka and an Aloha Nui Loa . . . Hawaiian greetings, too, from the Stan Jaloffs . . . Flo and Wally Brunmark brought theirs back from Stockholm . . . and the Aina Stenberg card brings Swedish greetings . . . as does the one from Dolly Marcuse . . . Anne Gougler's are Parisian . . . with a Joyeux Noel at Heureuse Annee . . . and were mailed from there . . .

Purely Beautiful: Among these is the still life painting on the card from Esther and Jim Hammond . . . and the pink and silver fantasy card from Viola Schreiner . . . and the star-frosted pink and white one from Anita and Jovana Jones . . .

Unusual: The two-foot long "Merry Christmas" in red felt letters from Ralph and Joyce Singer . . . Ray Ryan's fancy cowboy in Santa Claus red . . . who holds a small futuristic Christmas tree nonchalantly in one gloved hand . . . And the one from Loras and Jack Fascinato in Sherman Oaks . . . which has an acrostic that spells out my name . . . "How I'd Love a Desert Yuletide but I've got to work!" . . .

Thoughtful: In the names of the Chester Adlers and also from the Eddie Silvermans . . . came a card from La Rabida Jackson Home for Rheumatic Heart Children . . . acknowledging contributions made in my name . . .

Pictorials: A color photo of an original painting by Helen Braunschweiger of their Rock Point home . . . was painted from the window of her new studio . . . An Earl Cordrey sketch of the J. Ross Clark home has an infant cherub hovering overhead . . .

The four Corlisses on bicycles . . . and the five members of the Noel Clarke family in Western dress . . . bring their greetings . . . The Glenn Austins had a picture of Angela . . . and the Waltham Clarkes, a picture of Waltham Jr. in a tiny clown outfit . . . and a fine family portrait is that of Fred and Marian Weigel surrounded by their seven children . . .

Gorgeous: Is the big color photograph of the George Wright home . . . with a blazing fire in the fireplace and subdued lights showing through the floor-to-ceiling windows . . . while outside . . . a lighted Christmas tree is reflected

Family Here For Christmas At Smith Home

Burning yule logs in the fireplace and a snow-flaked fantasy outside the windows of the Harold Smith home at 1040 El Alameda, will lend a real Christmas air to the cocktail party and buffet supper to be held Monday evening for members of the family . . . Mrs. Smith's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hawkins from St. Paul, Minnesota, who are winter residents, her sister and brother-in-law, the Basil Ferebees from Mammoth Lakes, who are also winter residents, her cousins Mr. and Mrs. Viri Bunnell from Temple City, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Ferebee from Orange and the Smith's two daughters Audrey and Nancy, will make up the family party . . . They will all travel to the L. C. Ferebee home in Orange to spend Christmas day . . .

Home for Christmas

The Arnold Rumwells who were expecting to spend Christmas alone had a very pleasant surprise when their daughter Miriam "Chickie" Rumwell, who is a registered representative of the brokerage firm of Wertheim and Company, flew in from New York Saturday to spend Christmas with them. She will return Christmas evening . . .

In the blue waters of the swimming pool . . .

Funny Bunnies: The whistling boy on Kay and Howard Morris' card, broke me up . . . He has an axe over his shoulder and is hauling off a Christmas tree . . . which he has just chopped down . . . out of a bucket in front of an apartment house . . . The message is "Tis the season to be jolly" . . . The Welcher line drawings of the old-fashioned Mister and his Missus who've been Christmas shopping, comes from Ed and Pearl Thrasher at Newport Beach. Anne and Roy Randolph sent one with a tired-out Santa Claus snoozing as he drifts in a Palm Springs swimming pool . . .

Cabooses: A little old-fashioned train . . . laden with Christmas trees and gift packages . . . tootles along bringing Happy Holiday wishes from Frank and Melba Bennett . . .

There are hundreds more . . . and I love everyone of them . . . and can only say "Merry Christmas" to every one of you . . .

(Listen to Hildy Crawford, Monday through Friday, at 11:30 a.m., on KDES, 920 on your dial.)

Red Faced DARS

NANTUCKET, Mass. — Island residents here, rather proud of their whaling and Revolutionary forebears, are wearing red faces these days. A University of Massachusetts historian recently revealed that only one of 19 persons listed on a DAR chapter plaque actually served in the Revolutionary War.

THE 21 STATUES made in Germany with crib and stable, have again been arranged in a charming setting by Margaret Davidson, a local artist and member of the parish, and assisted by Guil Marchion.

There is also an attractive creche in the Church for the education of all.

Catholic Church in Cathedral City Nativity Scene Displayed at St. Louis

St. Louis Church today invited everyone in the Coachella Valley to view the artistic Nativity scene that has been erected on the church lawn at the corner of Glenn and B Streets in Cathedral City.

It is effectively lighted at night, and there is plenty of parking space available for those who wish to leisurely view the scene.

For the past six seasons, with the exception of last year when the Christmas scene was placed on Highway 111, it has attracted the admiration of those passing by the church.

The Church is open daily from dawn to dusk, and non-Catholics are always welcome to visit the little chapel. Both Christmas settings will be displayed until the Feast of Epiphany, Jan. 6—the traditional Twelfth night commemorating the arrival of the Magi and the first time that the Infant Saviour was seen by Gentiles.

The earliest known picture of a Nativity scene, about A.D. 380, which served as a wall decoration in the burial chamber of a Christian family, was discovered in St. Sebastian's Catacombs, Rome, in 1877.

THE CRIB IN ITS present form and its use outside a church is credited to St. Francis of Assisi. He made the Christmas crib popular through his famous celebration at Greccio, Italy on Christmas Eve, 1223, with a Bethlehem scene including wild animals.

usually an ass and ox, although not mentioned in the Bible, are traditionally now a part of the picture.

Child Festival to Be Held at St. Paul's Church

The Family Service at 9:15 a.m. tomorrow, Dec. 23, at St. Paul's in The Desert Episcopal Church will consist of the Children's festival, with nativity hymns and the assembling of the creche. The Junior Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Alex Hammond, will take the lead in the musical portion of the service.

The children will contribute inexpensive gifts, wrapped in white tissue, to the Christmas tree, that these gifts may be sent to the Episcopal Church Home for Children for use as birthday gifts throughout the year.

The simple service of the Holy Communion will be celebrated at 8 a.m. The 11 a.m. service will be that of Morning Prayer.

The Young People of the High School Group will meet together at the church this evening at 6:30. This group will go carolling around the Village, singing at the hospital, some of the hotels, and some residences of shut-ins.

The "Christ-Mass" will be celebrated Christmas Eve, preceded by a Carol Service which begins at 11 p.m. Tuesday morning, Christmas Day, a single celebration of the Holy Communion is scheduled for 10 a.m., which, once again, will be a choral service, without the carols preceding.

During Antarctica's summer, microscopic forms of sea life coat the underside of bay and ocean ice in a dark-brown layer like peanut butter. This plankton layer soaks up the heat of sunlight filtering through from above, melting the ice faster from the bottom than on top, the National Geographic Society says.

Christmas Aim to Be Topic of Science Sermon

The Christmas theme, its example and significance to mankind is the central point of the Lesson-Sermon "Christ Jesus" in the Christian Science churches this Sunday.

The Golden Text is in the words of the great founder of churches, the Apostle Paul, where he writes "God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ" (II Cor. 4:6).

"From 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures' by Mary Baker Eddy will be read these correlative words, 'The wakeful shepherd beholds the first faint morning beams, ere cometh the full radiance of a risen day.'

"So shone the pale star to the prophet-shepherds; yet it traversed the night, and came where, in cradled obscurity, lay the Bethlehem babe, the human herald of Christ, Truth, who would make plain to benighted understanding the way of salvation through Christ Jesus, till across a night of error should dawn the morning beams and shine the guiding star of being" (p. vii).

The sermon opens with the accounts of the appearing of the babe, Christ Jesus. The Apostle Matthew tells of the wise men who came "from the east to Jerusalem, Saying, Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have

Ortega Shouting For Shot at Title After Second Win

NEW YORK, (U.P.) — Lanky Gaspar Ortega, a glitter-eyed young Indian from Mexicali, Mex., warwhooped loudly for a shot at the welterweight belt today because of his second consecutive split decision over ex-champion Tony DeMarco of Boston in less than a month.

And his chances for a title shot were enhanced when Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club, said "Ortega's ready to fight any welterweight in the world now."

In their return 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden Friday night, nationally televised and broadcast, Ortega knocked stocky, black-haired DeMarco through the ropes onto the ring apron with a right to the chin in the first round, and then managed to wind up with an edge on points at the finish of their bristling bout.

NEW YORK, (U.P.) — Fearless Frasley's facts and figures:

The New York Yankees, with a huge farm system and a great amount of young talent, surprisingly were not against the new major league rule requiring a cut to 28 men by opening day.

In the past, some clubs carried as high as 40 men for the first month of the season. This kept the minor leagues guessing as to what they would get eventually and delayed their organization.

"This way, we'll get our kids out more quickly to where they can play ball regularly in the minors," said Yankee General Manager George Weiss. "Then, if we have a vacancy, we'll know which players are going best."

GENE FULLMER of West Jordan, Utah, an 8 to 5 favorite to take Sugar Ray Robinson's middleweight crown on Jan. 2, breaks camp Christmas Day and will finish up his training at a private gym.

The Air Force Academy still isn't ready to move into a football class with Army and Navy, according to head Coach Buck Shaw. The air cadets have been playing in the Rocky Mountain Conference and move in against Skyline opponents next year where, Shaw says, "We'll get our lumps."

In 1958 they step up again, against such as Iowa, Tulane and Stanford — and then they'll head for Army and Navy with four classes under their belts.

Russell to Start Pro Career Today
BOSTON, (U.P.) — The National Basketball Association's newest prize rookie, All-American and Olympian Bill Russell, opened his professional career today as the Boston Celtics entertained the St. Louis Hawks.

Russell, star of the record-making San Francisco champions and more recently a one-man gang for the U.S. Olympic team, began in a nationally televised game at Boston Garden this afternoon.

U.S. Cuppers Not Afraid of Big Bad Jinx

ADELAIDE, Australia, (U.P.) — The number "13" is considered just as unlucky "down under" as it is back in the States, but it isn't

Hawkeyes Stage Full Scale Scrum For Bowl Classic

PASADENA, (U.P.) — Coach Forest Evashevski sent his Iowa squad through a full-scale scrimmage Friday in preparation for the New Year's Day Rose Bowl game.

The first and second strings romped over the third and fourth squads by a score of 52-0 in the Hawkeyes first full-scale scrimmage since arriving here.

Right half Bill Hoppel and half-back Mike Hagler scored three touchdowns each. Quarterback Randy Duncan threw a pass to fullback John Nocera for the seventh score, and Bob Prescott kicked a 21-yard field goal.

"The timing has improved," Evashevski said after the drill. He scheduled two workouts for today.

Beavers Take Rest, Pose for Lensmen

SANTA MONICA, (U.P.) — The Oregon State Rose Bowl squad took a rest from heavy practice today and suited up for a picture and pose day.

Coach Tommy Prothro gave his team a breather after running the squad through a "modified scrimmage" Friday which left the Beavers tired and gasping.

Asked to comment on the 52 points Iowa's first and second squad scored in their first full-scale scrimmage, Prothro said: "It appears to me their first two teams must be awfully good and their third and fourth squads not so good."

Redskins Seen 2nd Place Pro Grid Cash

BALTIMORE, (U.P.) — The Washington Redskins will try to win a share of the second-place money Sunday when they meet the Baltimore Colts in the final regular season game of the 1956 National Football League campaign.

The game will be televised nationally at 11 a.m., PST, by CBS because the pro league's other 10 clubs have completed their regular seasons.

Mrs. Dorothy Rugney New White Sox Boss

CHICAGO, (U.P.) — Mrs. Dorothy C. Rugney today appeared to be the new boss of the Chicago White Sox.

STEELERS WAITING

PITTSBURGH, (U.P.) — Art Rooney, owner of the Pittsburgh Steelers, said today "nothing will be done about the Steeler coaching situation for a couple of weeks."

scaring Billy Talbert, non-playing captain of the United States Davis Cup tennis team.

In fact, Talbert feels next week's 13th straight meeting between the U.S. and Australia in the challenge round could produce an upset victory for the underdog Yanks.

Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, who also doesn't scare easily, agreed with Talbert.

"No one expects us to win a match against the Aussies and that's a good position to be in," said the veteran cup campaigner who is expected to draw two singles assignments and also team with Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., in the doubles.

"I would rather be the underdog than the favorite for these matches," Vic continued. "We were expected to beat the Aussies last year at Forest Hills and they really creamed us. Well, this year Australia is expected to win in a breeze."

"But don't underestimate us, for Australia beat us when it wasn't expected to and we can beat the Aussies when no one expects us to."

Harry Hopman, non-playing captain of the favored Aussies, has been driving his court stars, especially taciturn Lew Hoad, through gruelling drills.

Hoad has displayed some of his old-time form in recent drills. He is hitting the ball again with his former "killer touch," and seems intent on carrying Australia to a 4-0 sweep over the Americans.

Ken Rosewall, who represents the second half of Australia's "murder's row," thus far has escaped Hopman's strenuous daily drills. Hopman conceded that little Ken is in top form right now and "doesn't need to do much but hit a few each day."
